I. Introduction

To the Citizens of Ennis,

The Ennis Local Government Review Commission, elected by the voters on November 5, 2024, or thereafter appointed, presents this report to you, the citizens of Ennis. The purpose of the study commission, as defined in state law, is first to study the existing form and powers of our municipal government and procedures for delivery of local government services and secondly, compare them with other forms of government available under the laws of the state shown in Appendix F. After completing these two phases of the study it is the responsibility of the study commission to submit a final report recommending one of the following: no change, propose an amendment to the existing form of government or, offer an alternative form of government to the qualified electors. If some change is deemed necessary, the study commission may submit such proposed change to the electors.

In every phase of this review, this study commission sought advice and information from as many people as possible. We solicited opinions and recommendations from current and former local government employees, elected officials, and citizens. All study commission meetings were open to the public. Commission members were available to explain the work of the commission and to hear viewpoints, ideas, and concerns. The study commission held a public hearing and conducted a survey of citizen attitudes to determine citizen opinion. These recommendations reflect the thoughts and opinions of those who participated in the public hearings, those who attended our regular meetings, and those who responded to the surveys and questionnaires, in addition to the independent efforts of this study commission.

In this report, we present our unanimous recommendation for an alternative form of government that we feel will provide the governmental services expected by the people both today and in the future. Our concern has been to recommend a form of government that will provide consistent leadership and communication, improve workflows to increase efficiency, responsiveness, and transparency to local citizens. We feel the citizens of Ennis can achieve these goals by adopting the Commission-Manager form while retaining self-government powers.

Pending Ennis Town Commission approval, the question of adopting this alternative form of government will be placed on the November 4, 2025 ballot.

Respectfully Submitted,

Ennis Local Government Study Commission

II. Report Summary

A. Findings of the Study Commission

The decision of the Study Commission to recommend changes to the Town of Ennis form of government is the result of an in-depth study that included twelve public meetings, public hearings, a community-wide survey, and a detailed questionnaire completed by both elected officials and town employees. The input gathered through these efforts consistently highlighted concerns around lack of oversight, communication breakdowns, and administrative inefficiencies.

The current Commission-Executive form has been in place since Ennis was incorporated in 1956. The mayor is expected to oversee all day-to-day operations, manage multiple departments, supervise employees, prepare budgets and agendas, and ensure compliance with state law, all while often holding a full-time job elsewhere. The increasing complexity of local government makes this model outdated and unsustainable.

Numerous examples were identified throughout the study to illustrate this strain. For example, the Town has experienced delays in planning and approving budgets¹, and year-over-year audit findings that remain unresolved². Key responsibilities such as public notices and financial reconciliations have been missed or delayed, resulting in unnecessary costs to taxpayers^{2,3}. High commissioner turnover was another recurring concern, often attributed to poor communication, inadequate preparation for meetings, and lack of access to necessary information⁴.

These issues do not stem from any individual's failure but rather from the limitations of a structure that no longer suits the size and demands of a growing town. With an increasing population, expanding service needs, and a growing municipal budget, Ennis requires a more professional and efficient system of governance.

A concern influencing the Commission's recommendation is the national and local decline in volunteerism. Consistent with this national trend, Ennis has the difficulty of finding qualified candidates willing to serve in elected and appointed roles. Those who do volunteer often find themselves overwhelmed by the scope of responsibility. Relying on stipend or part-time officials to perform duties that increasingly resemble those of full-time professional administrators is no longer a viable strategy. The Commission-Manager form of government addresses this by placing executive responsibility in the hands of a qualified professional, allowing volunteer commissioners to focus on policy making and community leadership without being overburdened.

Other areas of concern that emerged during the study which affected the study commission's choice of an alternative form of government include citizen and officials' responses concerning the town government's ability to manage growth and provide a long-term strategy for reliable services⁵. This, combined with a lack of continuous leadership and subsequent transparency and accountability, led the study commission to identify the following goals for the Town of Ennis:

1. Consistent leadership among employees and the public
2. Consistent communication among employees and the public
3. Improve workflows to increase efficiency in delivery of services
4. Increase education for elected and appointed officials as well as employees

To achieve these goals, the study commission recommends a Commission-Manager form of government.

B. Key Provisions of the Proposed Form

Chief Administrative Officer

The town manager, a professional administrator hired by the commission on the basis of merit, is responsible for the administration of the programs and policies determined by the commission. Subject to the commission's general direction, the manager controls the hiring and firing of town personnel, directs and supervises the administration of all departments, prepares the budget, and oversees the business affairs of town government. The manager serves at the pleasure of the commission and may be replaced at any time with a majority vote of commission.

III. Comparison of the Existing Form of Government and the Proposed Form of Government

A. Existing Form of Government: Description of General Characteristics

Commission-Executive

The present form as set forth in Appendix A, provides for the Commission-Executive form of government. The current form of government in Ennis has been the same since being incorporated in 1956.

The five-member commission serves as the legislative body of the government, and commissioners are elected by the Ennis voters to four year overlapping terms. Each commissioner must reside within the Ennis town limits.

The Ennis Town Commission is responsible for setting policy, adopting budgets, and enacting local ordinances. They are also responsible for levying taxes and regulating the rates charged for services by a public utility. The commission can authorize borrowing of money or leasing/conveying any lands within the town⁶.

Under Section 3.02 of the Ennis Town Charter, the mayor holds significant executive authority and serves as the chief executive officer of the town⁷. The mayor is directly responsible to the voters for the administration of all municipal affairs and is tasked with enforcing laws, ordinances, and resolutions. They also supervise and manage all departments, implement the policies set by the town commission, and prepare both the commission agenda and the annual budget.

In addition to administrative duties, the mayor presides over commission meetings, makes recommendations to the commission, and represents the town in executing contracts and other official documents, subject to commission approval. Although the mayor participates in meetings, they do not vote, except through use of veto power over ordinances and resolutions—a veto which can only be overridden by a majority of the commission plus one.

The mayor also has appointment authority, including hiring and removing town employees and appointing the Town Clerk-Treasurer with commission approval. Furthermore, the mayor is empowered to establish advisory commissions and appoint their members. These combined powers highlight the substantial role and authority vested in the mayor within the commission-executive form of government. Currently, the mayor receives a stipend of eight hundred ($800) per month for these duties.

B. Proposed Form of Government: Description of General Characteristics

Commissioner-Manager

The proposed form as set forth in Appendix B provides for the Commission-Manager form of government. The Town of Ennis would operate under a Commission form of government consisting of five elected commission members, one of whom is chosen by the commission to serve as mayor. All governing powers are vested in the town commission unless otherwise specified by law or the town charter. The commission meets at least once a month, with provisions for special meetings as needed, and a quorum is established with the presence of any three members, including the mayor. Commission meetings are generally open to the public, with limited exceptions as permitted by law.

Commission members are elected at large on a nonpartisan basis and serve four-year overlapping terms. Members must reside within town limits and be qualified voters. The commission sets its own compensation by ordinance and is responsible for filling any vacancies, initially through appointment and later by election for the remainder of the unexpired term. The mayor is chosen annually by a majority vote of the commission from among its members and serves primarily as a ceremonial and presiding officer. The mayor has equal voting power with other commission members and does not possess veto authority. In the absence of a town manager, the mayor may assume temporary administrative duties when requested by the commission.

Under a new section of the Ennis Town Charter, the Town Manager is appointed by the Town Commission and serves as the chief executive and administrative officer of the municipality. The manager is tasked with implementing and enforcing the ordinances, resolutions, and policies set by the commission; effectively acting as the administrative arm that carries out the decisions made by the elected governing body. This structure ensures that executive authority is not concentrated with a single elected official, but instead is balanced across the commission, promoting a more equitable distribution of power and reducing the risk of unilateral decision-making.

The Town Manager's responsibilities include administering day-to-day operations, preparing the budget for commission approval, overseeing town departments and personnel, and advising on long-term planning and economic development. The manager also appoints, suspends, and removes employees, with some actions requiring coordination with department heads and consultation with the commission. The position is governed by a formal contract and the manager may only be removed by a majority vote of the commission. This system reinforces the role of the commission as the primary policymaking body while entrusting professional administration to a non-political executive. This ensures consistent leadership, communication, accountability and continuity in town governance.

C. Comparison of Specific Characteristics of the Existing and Proposed Forms of Government

The following chart compares characteristics of the existing form of town government with the proposed form of government. Under the last column, Evaluative Comments, includes short summaries explaining why the study commission is proposing some changes in each area.

CHARACTERISTIC	PRESENT FORM	PROPOSED FORM	EVALUATIVE COMMENTS
Form of Government	COMMISSION-EXECUTIVE	COMMISSION-MANAGER	Elected commission determines policy. Manager hired to administer policy and appointed based on experience. May be removed by majority vote of commission. Manager would provide consistent leadership, communication, and continuity.
Powers	SELF GOVERNING POWERS	NO CHANGE Retain self governing powers	Self-governing powers bring the power to act in the town's own best interests and flexibility in shaping government structure.
Governing Body	5 member commission with 4 year overlapping terms	NO CHANGE Retain 5 member commission with overlapping terms
Governing Body Election	Non-partisan	NO CHANGE Retain non-partisan elections
Governing Body Duties	The Commission is the legislative policy-making body. Mayor is the executive body and administers all departments.	The Commission is the legislative body and hires a professional manager to administer all departments.	Distributes the executive power throughout the commission and reduces the risk of one person making unilateral decisions for the town.

Service Delivery Structure.	Services performed by departments/employees and administered by the Mayor.	Services performed by departments/employees under manager's supervision. Collaboration with other government entities is possible.	Departments have supervision of a professional manager allowing for consistent leadership and communication leading to improved efficiency in work flows.

D. Recommendations and Reasons

The Town of Ennis Local Government Study Commission, having thoroughly studied our present form of town government and the alternative forms of government available to towns under state law, and having studied the future governmental needs of this town, recommends the following:

1. The Town of Ennis should adopt effective January 1, 2026, the Commission-Manager form of government retaining its self-governing powers and Town Charter.
2. The Town of Ennis Charter should be amended in the following manner:
 - A. Add section Town Manager.
 - B. The Town Manager shall be hired by the Town Commission.
 - C. The mayoral position should be selected from and approved by the seated commissioners.
 - D. The commission member selected shall serve as mayor for one year unless selected for an additional term by the commission.
 - E. The mayor may be removed by four (4) commission votes, whereupon a new mayor shall be selected by the commission.
 - F. The mayor shall be the presiding officer of the commission, shall vote as other commission members and may not veto measures approved by the commission. In the absence of the mayor, the commission shall appoint one of the commission members present to serve as presiding officer.
 - G. The mayor shall be the ceremonial officer of the town and shall have no additional duties or responsibilities except when required by the commission, and in the absence of the Town Manager, the mayor shall perform all administrative duties.
 - H. The office of mayor shall become vacant upon death, resignation or removal from office by any method authorized by law or this charter, a successor mayor shall be appointed by the commission.
 - I. The Town Commission shall appoint a Town Manager who shall serve under contract as the chief executive and administrative officer of the Town.
 - J. The Town manager shall have the duties outlined in MCA 7-3-304.

The Commission-Manager form of government provides a range of benefits that make it particularly well-suited for small and growing communities like Ennis. One of the most significant advantages is the presence of professional management. Under this system, a trained and experienced manager is appointed by the commission to handle the day-to-day operations of the town. This professional oversight brings a level of expertise and non-political decision-making that leads to more consistent leadership, improved communication and overall efficiency in municipal services.

Because the manager is not an elected official and serves by direction of the commission, the structure encourages a less political and more administrative approach to governance. This reduces the potential for political interference in routine operations and promotes consistency in how policies are implemented. The continuity provided by a professional manager helps ensure stable operations even as elected officials rotate through their terms.

The elected commission sets the overall direction and priorities for the town, while the appointed manager carries out those directives. In this model, the mayor is typically chosen from among the commissioners and acts primarily as a presiding officer rather than a separate executive authority. This creates a governing body focused on policy making and oversight.

Another benefit of this structure is the built-in system of checks and balances. By distributing executive authority across the entire commission, rather than one elected position, the town reduces the risk of unilateral decision-making and ensures broader accountability.

Finally, the Commission-Manager form offers adaptability, which is especially important for small and mid-sized towns. As communities grow and their needs become more complex, having a skilled administrator in place allows local government to respond effectively. The manager can take on responsibilities that would otherwise overwhelm part-time or volunteer officials, helping the town operate more efficiently and strategically over the long term.

The Study Commission recognizes that one of the most common questions surrounding the adoption of a Commission-Manager form of government is: How will the Town afford a professional manager? While there is not a designated fund currently set aside for this role, we believe the cost of a town manager may be offset if not fully recouped through the operational efficiencies they bring. “Many local governments have reduced their overall costs after hiring a professional manager. Savings can come from decreased operating costs, increased efficiency and productivity, improved revenue collection, and effective use of technology. The economic health of the community may also benefit from the implementation of improved business development and retention strategies.”⁸ A skilled manager can streamline workflows, eliminate redundancy, modernize outdated processes, and ensure compliance with best practices, all of which contribute to more cost-effective and transparent governance. In some Montana communities, these efficiencies lead to long-term savings because of the investment in professional leadership⁹.

- (8) report to the commission on the affairs and financial condition of the local government;
- (9) execute bonds, notes, contracts, and written obligations of the commission, subject to the approval of the commission;
- (10) report to the commission as the commission may require;
- (11) attend commission meetings and may take part in the discussion but may not vote;
- (12) prepare and present the budget to the commission for its approval and execute the budget adopted by the commission;
- (13) appoint, suspend, and remove all employees of the local government except as otherwise provided by law or ordinance;
- (14) appoint members of temporary advisory committees established by the manager.

7-3-305. Employees of commission-manager government. (1) Employees appointed by the manager and the manager's subordinates must be administratively responsible to the manager.

(2) Neither the commission nor any of its members may dictate the appointment or removal of any employee whom the manager or any of the manager's subordinates are empowered to appoint.

(3) Except for the purpose of inquiry or investigation under this title, the commission or its members shall deal with the local government employees who are subject to the direction and supervision of the manager solely through the manager, and neither the commission nor its members may give orders to the employee, either publicly or privately.

7-3-312. Appointment to boards. All members of boards, other than temporary advisory committees established by the manager, must be appointed by:

(2) the manager with the consent of the commission; or

7-3-313. Selection of commission members. The commission shall be:

(1) elected at large;

7-3-314. Type of election. Local government elections shall be conducted on a:

(2) nonpartisan basis.

7-3-315. Presiding officer of commission. The presiding officer of the commission must be:

(1) elected by the members of the commission from their own number for a term established by ordinance;

7-3-316. Terms of commission members. Commission members shall be elected for:

(2) overlapping terms of office.

7-3-317. Size of commission and community commissions. The size of the commission, which shall be a number not less than three, shall be established when the form is adopted by the voters, and:

(2) community commissions to advise commissioners may be authorized by ordinance.

7-3-318. Terms of elected officials. The term of office of elected officials may not exceed 4 years and shall be established when the form is adopted by the voters.

(2) This form has terms of 4 years for all elected officials. The size of the commission shall be established by ordinance, but it may not exceed five members.

V. SUPPLEMENTARY REPORT

The 2025 Study Commission respectfully submits the following additional recommendations to supplement the report. These recommendations are intended to enhance the long-term functionality, fiscal responsibility, and representational fairness of Town governance.

Required Education and Training

The Study Commission strongly recommends that the Town of Ennis adopt an ordinance requiring annual leadership and operations training for both elected officials and town employees. This recommendation builds upon the 2016 Study Commission's guidance and is reinforced by findings from recent audits highlighting concerns related to segregation of duties, cash reconciliation processes, and adherence to proper bidding procedures. These findings underscore the need for regular employee training and cross-training to ensure compliance with state statutes and to reduce the risk of financial or procedural errors.

Several questionnaire responses from employees, elected officials and community members emphasized the need for improved training. Many commissioners come from private-sector backgrounds and may not have practical experience in parliamentary procedure, municipal finance, or the legal responsibilities of elected office. A structured annual training program will help ensure effective governance, promote transparency, and instill a culture of competency and public trust within town leadership.

Consolidation with Madison County

The Town of Ennis should explore opportunities to consolidate certain services with Madison County, particularly in areas where collaboration could reduce costs and improve efficiency. This recommendation includes exploration of consolidation in all departments where reasonable, to reduce taxpayer costs for services.

One key area is law enforcement coverage. At present, the Town and the Madison County Sheriff's Office operate without a formal Memorandum of Understanding (MOU) to ensure coverage during periods when the Ennis Police Department is not staffed. This gap has become especially pressing with the passage of House Bill 333, which mandates that third-class towns either maintain a fully staffed police department or enter into a formal contract with their county for law enforcement services.

This legislative change presents an opportunity for the Town to proactively engage in discussions with the County to formalize service agreements, potentially lowering costs and improving public safety coverage. Consolidation efforts such as this, if thoughtfully implemented, could enhance service continuity and long-term sustainability, particularly under the direction of a professional town manager.

Annexation of Surrounded and Serviced Properties

The Study Commission recommends that the Town of Ennis pursue annexation of properties that are either wholly surrounded by town boundaries or are already receiving municipal utility services. These properties benefit from proximity to town services and infrastructure but often do not contribute proportionally to their maintenance and delivery.

Annexation would help distribute service costs more equitably, expand the Town's tax base, and provide a more consistent governance structure for properties functionally integrated with the community. Moreover, bringing these properties into town limits would widen the pool of residents eligible to serve on local boards and in elected positions, thereby strengthening civic engagement and broadening community representation.

Local Tax Option

Many Montana communities have asked voters to approve a local tax option or “resort tax,” to offset the cost of a town manager and to generate income for town services. The study commission recognizes this would be a change for businesses owners, and the benefits of such income should be explored.

These supplementary recommendations are offered in the spirit of promoting effective, equitable, and fiscally responsible governance for the Town of Ennis. We encourage the Town Commission to consider their adoption and implementation in the best interest of the community’s long-term health and stability.

TOWN OF ENNIS
SCHEDULE OF FINDINGS AND RESPONSES
For the Year Ended June 30, 2022

2022-001. SEGREGATION OF DUTIES

Criteria: Duties should be segregated to provide reasonable assurance that transactions are handled appropriately.

Condition: There is a lack of segregation of duties among personnel.

Effect: Transactions could be mishandled.

Cause: There are a limited number of personnel for certain functions.

Recommendation: The duties should be separated as much as possible, and alternative controls should be used to compensate for lack of separation. The governing board should provide some of these controls. The following internal control over utility accounting should be implemented:

- On a monthly basis, aged accounts receivable and adjustment/write-off reports for utility accounts receivable should be submitted to the Mayor and Town Council for review and approval.

Response: This is an ongoing issue for the Town of Ennis. The Town works to ensure the Commission and Mayor are involved in the day to day operations of the Town. Monthly financial reports are supplied to and reviewed by the department heads. The commission reviews all claims prior to the claim being paid. All checks require two signatures. The bank statements are currently reconciled by the clerk as we do not have a deputy clerk. The Mayor reviews the bank statements against the accounting reconciliation reports for accuracy. Monthly cash reconciliation records are reviewed at this time in the same manner as the bank reconciliation reports.

2022-002. AUDITOR PREPARED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

Criteria: As part of its internal control structure, it is the government's responsibility to prepare its financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles (GAAP).

Condition: The government does not have the expertise to prepare or evaluate the selection and application of accounting principles and resulting disclosures and presentations within the auditor prepared financial statements.

Cause: The government is a small organization with limited resources.

Effect: It is common for a small organization to rely on the audit firm to prepare the financial statements; however, an audit firm cannot be considered part of the government's internal control by professional standards currently in effect. Since some presentations and disclosures may be material to the financial statements, this weakness in internal control would be classified as material.

Recommendation: While it may not be cost effective to do so, we recommend the government consider hiring a qualified person to evaluate the auditor prepared financial statements.

Response: The Town of Ennis, having limited resources, is relying on the Mayor to review monthly financial statements with the Clerk/Treasurer. Quarterly statements are to be presented to the Commission for review. The annual financial statement is prepared by our auditor's office and reviewed by the Clerk/Treasurer to check the quality of the document.

Town of Ennis Local Government Study Commission Tentative Report 2025

2022-003. TOTAL OTHER POST-EMPLOYMENT BENEFIT LIABILITY NOT RECORDED

Criteria: U.S. generally accepted accounting principles require the total OPEB liability and related expense be recorded in the financial statements.

Condition: The government did not record the total other post-employment benefit (OPEB) liability and related expense (GASB Statement No. 75) in the financial statements.

Cause: The government did not engage an actuarial firm to assist in determining the total OPEB liability and related expense as of and for the year ended June 30, 2022.

Effect: The governmental activities, the business-type activities and the proprietary funds' liabilities are understated, net position is overstated and expenses would change.

Recommendation: The government should engage an actuarial firm to determine the total OPEB liability and related expense.

Response: The Town of Ennis has found that the cost outweighs the benefit.

2022-004. BANK RECONCILIATIONS

Criteria: Strong internal controls dictate bank reconciliations be completed monthly. Part of the reconciling process includes identifying and resolving unreconciled differences.

Condition: Bank reconciliations for fiscal year 2022 were not timely and unreconciled differences were not resolved, but instead were carried from month to month.

Cause: Unknown.

Effect: General ledger account balances were incorrect.

Recommendation: Bank reconciliations should be completed monthly. Unreconciled cash differences should be identified and resolved immediately.

Response: The Town is working on methods to see that bank reconciliations are completed in a timely manner. As noted earlier in this response, the Town is currently short staffed so existing staff and officials are assisting where they can.

2022-005. EXPENDITURE BUDGET OVERSPENT

Criteria: Section 7-6-4005, MCA, requires that expenditures be limited to appropriations for each budgeted fund.

Condition: The Ennis Planning and Health Insurance-Employer Contribution funds were overspent for the year ended June 30, 2022.

Effect: Non-compliance with state law.

Cause: Procedures are not in place to monitor budgeted expenditures.

Recommendation: Procedures should be developed to ensure that expenditure budgets are not overspent.

Response: The expenditure budget will be reviewed monthly and if it is found that there is, or will be, overspending, the matter will be taken to the Town Commission for consideration of a Resolution of Budget Amendment.

2022-006. BIDDING

Criteria: Per Section 7-5-4302(1), a contract for the purchase of any automobile, truck, other vehicle, road machinery, apparatus, appliances, equipment, or materials or supplies or for construction, repair, or maintenance in excess of $80,000 must be let to the lowest responsible bidder after advertisement for bids.

Condition: The town contracted paving for an amount in excess of $80,000 without going through the formal bid process.

Cause: Department heads misinterpreted the specific bidding requirements for this expenditure.

Effect: Noncompliance with state procurement statutes.

Recommendation: A contract for any purchase in excess of $80,000 should be formally advertised for bid in accordance with Section 7-5-4302(1), MCA.

Response: The Town has made sure that all Department Heads know that a purchase in excess of $80,000 has to be put out for bid and have given them Section 7-5-4302(1), MCA for reference.

2021-001. SEGREGATION OF DUTIES

Status: This finding is unresolved and is repeated as finding 2022-001 for the year ended June 30, 2022.

2021-002. AUDITOR PREPARED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

Status: This finding is unresolved and is repeated as finding 2022-002 for the year ended June 30, 2022.

2021-003. TOTAL OTHER POST-EMPLOYMENT BENEFIT LIABILITY NOT RECORDED

Status: This finding is unresolved and is repeated as finding 2022-003 for the year ended June 30, 2022.

2021-004. EXPENDITURE BUDGET OVERSPENT

Status: This finding is unresolved and is repeated as finding 2022-005 for the year ended June 30, 2022.

- I. Contract with Montana League of Cities and Towns for Clerk Services: The contract was not originally included in the budget; however, the solution is to reallocate funds from other line items to cover the cost. Initially, the training will be conducted online. Following that, the budget will be reviewed to assess the possibility of in-person training. This contract provides a training opportunity for the Town clerks, focusing on cash reconciliation processes. Judy Campbell, who works closely with utility billing, will be training Brennah, and Judy Rogers will be training Ginger. During this training, the 2023 and 2024 cash reconciliations will be reviewed. Brittney Hirsch inquired about how the training would proceed if the trainers do not have access to the Town's software. Mayor Haas will explore the possibility of granting them access. Further discussion and a vote will happen on January, 23rd 2025 at 6:15 pm.

- d. Contract with Montana League of Cities and Towns for Clerk Services-
Discussion and Vote: Commissioner Abernethy motioned to approve the contract with Montana League of Cities and Towns for Clerk Services. Commissioner Hardy seconded the motion. Commissioner Way expressed a desire for training to be provided to all staff in the front office, not just Ginger. Commissioner Abernethy requested additional verbiage be added to the contract to include a post-training report card, confirming that the training was effective and that the clerks fully understood the material. Ginger noted that such a report may already be part of the training process, but she would confirm with the League to ensure documentation of training progress would be provided. There was no further discussion. Mayor Haas called to vote, all commissioners voted aye. M/S/C, unanimous vote.

³Montana Department of Administration Decision Letter Finding Claims of Violations

MONTANA
DEPARTMENT OF ADMINISTRATION

State Financial Services Division
Greg Gianforte, Governor
Misty Ann Giles, Director

January 3, 2025

Town of Ennis
PO Box 147
Ennis, MT 59729

Dear Town Officials,

The Department of Administration (DOA) recently issued a decision on a claim against the Town of Ennis. The DOA decision found that there was sufficient evidence to support the taxpayer claims of violations of the State of Montana Single Audit Act for the following:

- Failure to resolve significant audit findings - 2023-004 Cash Reconciliation (repeated from FY2022 audit)
- Failure to resolve significant audit findings – 2023-005 Budget Overspending (repeated from FY2022 and FY2021 audits)
- Failure to timely complete and submit an audit report for the fiscal year ending June 30, 2023.

Town of Ennis Local Government Study Commission Tentative Report 2025

⁵Summary of current/past employee and elected official questionnaire.

Timestamp	Which one of the following are you?	What are the top 3 challenges you face or faced in your position?	What changes, if any, would help you and/or other town officials/employees deal with these challenges?	Which, if any, of the town's departments or services can be made more efficient by cooperation or consolidation with other units of local government? Please explain your answer.	What changes, if any, would you recommend to improve service or efficiency?	Please provide any other comments you feel would be helpful to the Local Government Study Commission.	Thank you for providing you input. If you would be comfortable with the Study Commission following up with you regarding your answers please provide your contact information.
15:31 employee	Current or Former 4/22/2025	Funding, employee retention and communications	Long term planning, higher wages, more than a part time mayor	Sharing of equipment or people, law enforcement co-op w/county	city manager to oversee departments aren't so compartmentalized and provide continuity, employ a grant writer, separate water-sewer from public works and maintenance	a city manager may not have to be full time to be effective; 3/4 time may work
4/22/2025 18:32 official	Current or Former elected	Lack of leadership and communication. Poor management skills regarding employees, duties and repercussions. Negligence of including commission members on important topics and decisions.	City manager will help and hold employees accountable	PD should be dissolved and contract with Sheriff department. No sense in having a PD budget of 200K to patrol 1 mile of town limits. MCSO has deputies trained as SRO so I find myself asking why our Chief of police is still at the school daily. Savings would also be reflected in dissolving court costs.	It's hard to find a qualified mayor that has the backbone to run a business, town manager is a great option. Maybe there are grants available to assist in budgeting for the change?	Great job and thank you all for your hard work in getting this review moving quickly and effectively.	Nikki Hankins-Bottle Barn
4/23/2025 9:20:0	Current or Former employee	As the Deputy Clerk, my top 3 challenges are: 1. It's tough to track down unregistered dogs and some people comply, while others openly ignore the rule. 2. Convincing people they need a new meter reader. 3. Since I work with the public works department, it gets difficult when there is only one worker. Some of the work orders have to be pushed back due to low staffing issues.	Better employee retention and for the residents to learn about the Town's codes.	I strongly believe that collaboration and coordination across all town departments is essential to our collective success. Departments like Zoning and Public Works often interact on overlapping issues, and when we work together as a unified team, we can serve the community more effectively and efficiently. By fostering better communication and alignment across departments, we not only streamline operations but also build a stronger, more responsive town government. When we support one another, we elevate the entire town — and together, we can achieve truly great results.	During my time working for the Town, I've observed that a significant number of residents, roughly 50%, who visit the office are looking to speak with the Zoning Administrator. It can be challenging when we're unable to connect them with someone immediately, as it often results in delays or repeated visits. Having a zoning representative available more consistently would greatly improve the experience for residents, help ensure their questions are addressed promptly, and support more timely processing of permits. I believe this would be a valuable step toward improving overall efficiency and public satisfaction.	Thank you for taking the time to share important information with our residents — it's essential that they have the tools to make informed decisions about the future of their local government. I know how much pride the people of Ennis have in their Town, and I'm truly committed to doing the best job I can to serve them.	bbench@ennismontana.org
4/23/2025 11:13	Current or Former employee	There is a noticeable lack of support from the Town Commission, compounded by limited understanding of departmental operations among Commissioners. Additionally, some Commissioners appear to be operating outside the scope of their legislative authority, often failing to seek clarification on the rationale behind established practices and procedures.	Mandatory training and education for all elected officials from MMIA and the Local Government Center including annual refresher training.	Overall, the Town operates efficiently and effectively when employees are empowered to perform their duties without undue interference or pressure from the Town Commission. Most departments are functioning well under their current structures. However, decisions—such as replacing a single, long-serving attorney with two separate attorneys at two to three times the cost—raise concerns about fiscal responsibility and operational efficiency.	Empowering employees to carry out their responsibilities without undue interference allows for more effective operations. The Commission's role is best fulfilled through policy direction, rather than direct involvement in day-to-day management or employee directives that may fall outside legal or procedural boundaries.	The Local Government Review appears to be guided by a specific agenda. The phrasing of the questions in the public survey suggests that certain conclusions may have been predetermined by the Commission. As it stands, the process resembles more of a 'steering committee' effort than a genuinely impartial review of local government operations.

9:45:1employee	Current or Former 4/30/2025	No leadership. No follow through on training. Lack of desire to improve processes.	A full time boss / manager	Public works depts could support each other with labor sharing possibly? Law enforcement 100% needs to work together. MCSO and EPD should have a terrific working relationship-it has been deteriorating for several years unfortunately.	Use the software available to cut down on hours to complete tasks.	The Town Mayoral position does not provide quality to the employees of the Town. They deserve solid, full time leadership and oversight. Accountability would drastically improve with a quality Town Manager. The employees deserve regularly scheduled reviews that include praise on the good they're doing and honest feedback for what they need to improve on. A Town manager could drastically improve the lack of culture.
/1/2025 11:57:4Current or Former elected official		The first was just learning what to do, where to search out information, procedures, etc.. To make it simple, there is not really any direction given to a new council member to help them learn the ropes. The second is that individual members of the community that attend the town council meetings seem to be a small group of individuals who mean well. These people want transparency and they should get that, but for some reason there seems to be personal disagreements of the past that have caused some hard feelings between council members and individuals within the town. In my opinion, we need to work together for the betterment of the town of Ennis. Third, it takes so long to get anything looked at, presented, followed up on, changed, voted on, whatever, and this makes things not very productive and efficient at times. I understand the open meetings requirements and the transparency laws. Still to me, meeting once a month with no other communication is like being married to someone and you both have a business and children together, but you two only speak to each other once a month for a few hours.	I would definitely recommend that we have someone who works with any new council or board member to get them started in their new role. I would love to see someone assigned to this, or we could even let the last person to be elected be the one to be like a big brother or sister to the newly elected. Some type of a quick training type of session and someone they can call for a few weeks if they have a question. I am not trying to create a new role because we know that it is a few individuals who volunteer to help out, and I know everyone is busy with their own lives. I just know that I had to figure it all out on my own and I could have been a couple of months ahead of where I am now if I had some guidance. Also, I am the type that speaks up and seeks the information. Not everyone is going to do that, so some of these individuals may would like the assistance.	I believe we have a big need to focus on our growth and infrastructure right now. I would love to see a few work sessions that focus on each department in the city. I believe that we need to go back to each department and begin with A and work our way to Z. This would take a lot of time and dedication, but I believe we can do it and that it is necessary considering the growth of the town of Ennis. Since it is important to many of the town's business owners that their voices be heard, I would like to see a liaison type of position looked at to help address this need. Not a paid position or anything that formal, but a way for the local business to feel that they are being represented.	I believe that the town of Ennis has a big need in workforce housing. The town also needs money. I believe that there is a way for the town to provide this workforce housing while at the same time, make the town more appealing to potential new employees. The town could see this as a income stream while they help out others in need.	I think this is a great time for this Government Review to be taking place. I know Ennis is small, but it is growing. The town has a lot to work on and we all need to pull together for the benefit of this community. I would like to see everyone in this community not feel uncomfortable to bring forth any concerns or opinions that they have. It has been pointed out that their are citizens who do not feel like they are heard and this to me if a problem. All elected or hired individuals work for the citizens of the town of Ennis. We are not above anyone else, we are here to serve our fellow citizens.	Stephanie Cselle 706-273-6267

5/5/2025 9:55:09	Current or Former employee	employee retention, ageing equipment and infrastructure,	?	ZONING we pay two people to do one job and she doesn't even have to be here we have to answer alot of questions on her behalf			406-922-9587
9:51:31	Current or Former 5/6/2025 employee	There is not a clear understanding of roles and responsibilities by the Town Commission. They often work outside of their legislative authority and compound matters. They should be concentrating on matters the Town needs accomplished. An example is water/sewer rates that have been left undone for numerous years even though the subject has been brought up numerous times.	When bringing something to a meeting with no notice of what they have in mind to the Mayor beforehand there is often discussion without the benefit of anyone being prepared. Also, the Commission, for the most part, should be doing the groundwork for matters they are working on. Not relying on others to do the work for them.	Most departments work well together. However, information and documents that have been requested to be included in the shared drives or when being processed have been ignored. This leaves a hole in the process that needs to be followed in order for the Town to be operating efficiently. In order for the Town to run efficiently the Commission needs a better understanding of what it takes to run the Town. Decisions are being made with little information other than what has been expressed to them by sources that want certain things changed, added, discarded, etc.	The Commission's position is to set policy, write legislation, etc. They would best serve the Town by not involving themselves in the daily operations of the Town. It is important to listen to your employees as they are the ones, lets say, in the trenches on a daily basis and are the integral part of the Town operating smoothly and efficiently.	It is relatively evident the LGR Study Commission has predetermined ideas of what conclusions will be in the final report. The process is being rushed and that further leads to the belief that the conclusions have already been decided on. This does not appear to be an impartial review of the Town's form of Government.
5/8/2025 13:05:00	Current or Former employee	Managements inability to manage both staff and everyday situations.	Interpersonal relationship training, management training, de-escalation training.	N/A	Be open to ideas that could improve both internal operations and public relationships. The mentality of 'out of staters just want to change everything ' is hurting day to day operations of the town.	I believe having strong leadership with the towns best interests in mind is the best way to building a great town to live in.
5/9/2025 10:54:20	Current or Former elected official	not able to be there enough to oversee what was going on not able to discipline employees without blowback working with council people that were uneducated or uninformed even though they had access to the information and chose not to do the work	town manager (for the ability to see everything that goes on day to day and be able to react when needed commissioners knowing what they have the ability to do and what their job is (job description education)	police/sheriff department and dispatch. Need to have a good plan going forward and ability to work together for the better and safety of the public	update all technology and start using what is available. it makes work easier and quick and gives transparency ability to dictae what needs to be done with town employees (not them doing what they want when they want to) ability for public to be able to see and talk to all members of the town (employees, commissioners, mayor, public works, zoning) functional website with correct information, an easier way to navigate the site to make it user friendly

10:59:3employee	Current or Former 5/9/2025	not having a leader that is professional understaffed poor communication	professional leadership would really help all employees. we need someone to monitor, lead and keep the pulse check regularly	public works departments with other towns working together is a great idea ennis should have 24 7 coverage of police.. at a reasonable price to the taxpayers	upgrade all meters get trained up and use the expensive software that the town pays for in the office need some accountability to be sure those things happen and don't just kick the can down the road	what would really help employee retention is if the employees felt like they were part of a team.. like we were all working for the better of the community that pays the payroll
5/14/2025 11:43	Current or Former employee	no effective leadership, which lead to lack of training and accountability of others. not feeling like my work made a difference - no recognition	it would be nice if there was more structure. i have found at other jobs that feeling like you are part of a team makes everyone do a better job and also helps keep people long term. accountability. if there is a problem but you feel like there is nobody to take the problem to, or that no consequences will come of poor performance then you start to lack ambition to do the best you can	still hard to believe that the town pays so much for a police department but does not have full time coverage	mandatory training on a regular basis. team training and events.	there are so many employees that have a negative attitude about change or towards anyone that wants to try to do things different or improve processes. a few bad apples can really ruin the bunch.. or just run them off eventually. some people stay only for the benefits but they see the issues and just deal with it. it really would just take the right person in the right position to turn the place around slowly but surely.
5/14/2025 12:12	Current or Former employee	Leadership is difficult with limited time to offer. Employees take it upon them self in leadership roles that usually benefits themselves more than what is correct. Absolutely no communications. So much behind the scenes. Employees should have been terminated for their actions continue to be employed and making same mistakes.	Ennis is ready for leadership that is available and there when decisions are being made by employees. Someone that can monitor more of the day to day activities and be aware of violations that are being allowed to continue without consequences	Deputy Clerk and Clerk Treasure could be combined, Manager would be able to take on roles that Clerk Treasure assumes.	Manager or at the very least Mayor that has more time to devote so things are always moving forward, fairly and efficiently	It is time for a positive change.

I greatly appreciate the patience and attention that Town Hall employees consistently provide to the residents. Their dedication is truly commendable. Additionally, the school would benefit from having someone like John Moore, who is committed to safeguarding the future of our generation. The Public Works team is hardworking and always eager to assist, contributing greatly to the community's well-being.

They are amazing at notifying residents when a leak or water problem occurs. Eric Olson is always willing to help and work with people. The office ladies are kind and get things done.

Staff is awesome, Officer John is great, Ginger and Brennah at Town Hall are awesome

Not a damn thing.

I think the Mayor is trying to do the correct things but has a commission that is severely lacking and is not supportive. The commissioners make the mayor look bad. Corey Hardy is another one trying to do the correct thing and is prepared for meetings and seems to understand the process.

Reaching out when a water or sewer problem occurs. The employees are smart people who are just trying their best for the town.

Staff they are great. The cops are friendly and great with kids, Public works is responsive and the office ladies are friendly.

Communicating schedule and agenda of government meetings and, if a citizen has signed up for email communications on other events, status of services, or safety issues, those communications are timely and informative. The government effectively responds to emergency needs such as water line failures, but in the case of water line failures there may be a need to replace water infrastructure that could help eliminate such failures. Fixing those failures on an emergency basis is especially expensive because the contractor is getting a premium for their work and are usually paid on a time and materials basis because the scope of work is unknown going in. Inevitably such work uncovers additional things that need to be fixed, so the cost increases even more.

I believe the Ennis Local Government is doing an excellent job of keeping residents informed about water issues when Lions Park is closed. Additionally, I commend their efforts in embracing the growth and changes occurring within the town.

Commission - Manager structure would be best

ALSO- what happened to the "Envisioning Ennis" plans? They were great. We just spent all that taxpayer money on them and abandoned ship because some loud naysayers lost their minds over parklets? Why throw the baby out with the bath water??

need more input from people out of town. AND A VOTE!

sure would like to have more public participation at city meetings!

Having been on the city council of a city of 40k, now about 100k, I like the city manager form with Mayor and Council. But Ennis can't afford it.
Climate change and global warning is not a 'Chinese hoax'.

Give me a sidewalk. This is my first year as a homeowner in Ennis. I can't attenst to current or previous ways of our gov or my tax dollars and where they are spent. SB 260 has me in a state of new home owner panic.

The town employees seem to do what they want, when they want with no regard to the people paying their salaries. If they were held accountable I think efficiency would improve.

Members of departments HAVE some knowledge of the position before engaging

To big for your britches, bid out mowing plowing and road maintenance, school is county not city. So you need law enforcement for a town of 1000 people? Smaller is better when we get to 10k people then reconsider law enforcement and maintenance departments.

Need to allow people that live outside of town limits . Have a vote! Not just a voice. Majority of business owners live out of town .

I think all of them should be canned. From the mayor to the commissioners.

Our water storage and sewage in town have real issues that most residents are unaware. Monies to fix vs patch should be a priority before town possibly burns down.

Also parking spots downtown in winter are a serious hazard to anyone. Town should work with state before more injuries occur.

As different child recreation ideas are being discussed at the park. Liabilities to injuries should be evaluated. Thank you

It's time for a city manager!

When the public ask questions- they deserve answers! Transparency!!

It's time to take a hard look at the Town of Ennis as a whole and review the management form the top on down?
Changes would certainly be necessary to accomplish greater goals!

The commissioners need to get to their job and legislate. The employees do a great job when the commissioners are not trying to fire them and the mayor. Only thing to change is commissioners who know what their job is.

We do not need more oversight, we need the elected officials to do their job. Let the employees work.

Your little local government review club is run by two people who want to destroy this town and make it like Big Sky and Bozeman. Leave it alone and let the employees work.

Stop treating your employees badly and trying to fire the elected mayor. The commission should support the employees not try to ruin their lives and bring back officer Moore in the school protect our kids

I believe that we need to continue with our current form of government.

Create more fundraising events for our community, resort tax is a must for long term survival, grow with our changing population. Jobs, jobs, jobs

The Town Commission needs to be prepared and know their job. The mayor does a great job despite the town commission trying to remove her for doing a great job. Don't change a thing except education for the commission.

Growth and demands will need trained professional leadership paid real salaries and not token stipends. People critiquing the Ennis govt and mayor need to realize these folks are citizens who are not professionals and are VOLUNTEERS. My advice? Stop complaining, volunteer yourself, share the burden, and get involved.

Zoning codes could be addressed ...single family housing needs to be reworded allowing unrelated people to be considered a household. Home sharing, tiny homes and accessory dwelling units could be encouraged esp as property taxes and insurance go up. We need affordable trailer parks IN town so people could be close to services without needing to purchase an expensive home.. We need a `free` shed at the dump for good trash to be left for others...books, toys, building supplies, household goods, etc. Lessens solid waste issues. Walking and biking paths all over 'campus' to encourage healthy habits. Yes to a community aquatic / fitness / library / conference center.

I think hard times are coming quickly...victory / community gardens should be encouraged everywhere, esp at the parks and on empty lots. Goats and sheep (on large city lots >0.5 acre) and more chickens allowed on the smaller city lots. If the city plants trees, could they be fruit-bearing?

Reclaim the volunteer ambulance to lighten the hospital's burden.

We are a thriving community as evidenced by no vacant store fronts. As a rural community, newcomers need to be educated by the greedy realtors and developers about the limitations of living here and to curtail their demands for bright lights, plowed & paved roads, watered landscapes, rapid emergency response times and larger city services. Boulder Colorado is an example of a community that limited its growth.

Just some thoughts.

Thank you.

Police Department is a joke. Maintain and play the roads and repair the sidewalks.

a lot of problems would be solved if your employees had accountability. a part time mayor who can't be there every day to oversee what the heck is (or ISNT) happening is unrealistic. there's theft and laziness and there's just ancient processes that have never been forced to update. time to have DOGE for Ennis.

Time for a full time manager. Your employees have no leadership. They've been on their own doing whatever they see fit for far too long. Some hold themselves to a very low level and there is no accountability.

We need someone who knows what they are doing. We need a resort tax. We need a proactive leader.

take care of our water situation and stop allowing the green grass people to water in the mountain desert

Why does the Town pay for the library it is not an essential service. These questions appear to cater to the personal belief of at least 3 of the 4 members of the Local Review. Leave things the way they are and go find something productive to do.

I wish individuals could move past personal conflicts with certain Town employees and approach matters with professionalism and maturity. The current form of government is the most suitable for Ennis at this time. Unfortunately, it seems that some individuals harbor negative feelings and are focused on undermining the progress and unity of our community. It's essential for us to work together for the greater good of the town.

Ennis is doing great. The Town Commission needs to learn their role and stop bullying the Mayor and employees. Stop trying to fix something that isn't broken.

Not my job to do your job, but thanks for asking.

Our small town is growing and developing. I believe that in past years the city governess has been doing ok with lay community members. We have gone beyond that point now. I think our mayors have tried to do the "right" thing and have had the town's best interest at heart. I believe that our current mayor has been hindered by past commissioners that have no clue to their professional roles, excluding Corey Hardy. There are others that have their own personal agendas to push through that I believe have been a huge conflict of interest. We need a hired/paid town manager that can devote their expertise to providing guidance and foresight to the area's growth and continued growth. A hired Town Manager with the education and skills will need to lead the town through challenges without tearing a community apart.

Don't fix something not broken.

The Town id doing good, why are you trying to change it to be like somewhere else (California or New York).

The current form of government may have been the most feasible one for a town the size of Ennis with significant budget limitations. The question on this survey about whether the town is making the best use of taxpayer money is misleading given that there is a very significant budget shortfall. The town may be making the best use of the available tax revenue, but the cost of what the town needs to provide far exceeds the revenue. While to some that may suggest the possibility of excess/unnecessary or misallocated spending, I think the gap in what the town needs in revenue relative to what it is able to provide in services makes that seem unlikely. Besides, as noted above, when things like emergency water line repairs are needed, the town has no choice but to pay the premium it costs in order to assure residents have water. Overall, I think the town is struggling in all areas to keep up with what the town needs in services due to the budget shortfall. My sense is the Ennis community has not committed to helping increase revenue which is desperately needed. If there was a change to a Commission with Town Manager form of government, perhaps the community would have more confidence that long term goals would be achieved and challenges met, but though that may be true, it still won't happen without more revenue. I therefore think something like a resort tax would be an excellent way to boost revenue given the Ennis economy's heavy dependence on visitors during the late spring/summer/early fall season. Yet I understand there has not been support for it and I gather some or all of the reason is lack of confidence in the Ennis government. I anticipate the Ennis community will not see long term goals achieved and associated challenges met without more revenue, regardless of the form of government. But if the reason for the community resisting ways to increase revenue has to do with lack of confidence in the current form of government, then a change in the form of government will have to occur.

It seems your questions are attempting to lead the person answering this survey to a conclusion that the person(s) who came up with this study want rather than actually listen to the people.

Stop trying to spend more money. This survey is clearly trying to steer comments to a Town Manager. Why so defensive when questioned about it at a public meeting? This is a steering committee not a local government review.

Decorum and civility are necessary to engage functional relationships between the towns residents, town employees, business owners, visitors & elected officials

Curious how your public meetings are during the day at the library where they can't be broadcast like the commission meetings or saved to be watched at a later time - what are you hiding. Your public comment policy appears unconstitutional and illegal. What are you hiding? Based on the scope of your questions this is clearly a steering committee and this committee wants a change in the government based on their past employment and publicly held positions. Look at how you posed your questions trying to force the person answering to align with you preconceived intentions to change the Town. Leave it alone and let the employees do their jobs.

Who on the committee came up with these questions? Very one sided like you already know your outcome and answers. Don't change a thing and don't make us like California.

there is no leadership at the Town. Who is the mayor? I never see her at Town events being a face for the town. Need to keep the mayor but they should be out and about garnering feedback from citizens and being a face of the Town. The employees need leadership

There is no oversight. Department heads shoot from their hip and have no consistency. They need a manager

Why do we spend so much on the Police force? John Moore is a the worst and I think he is unstable with a good chance he will shoot someone. Contract with the county for law enforcement. Town office staff is likely embezzling funds or stealing hours, the corruption runs deep. Get a town manager and get rid of the current staff.

The Town of Ennis needs a manager to manage employees for transparency and accountability. The recent audits reflect a total lack of accountability and ability to manage tax payer dollars.

The town needs to contract with the Co for law enforcement. Spending $250,000 dollars for not even 1/2 coverage to irresponsible. Sharing resources and decreasing liability is the appropriate action.

Streamlining duties is imperative for a government to be adaptable to changes/challenges.

As people talk about city council meetings, they seem contentious. I would like us to reach a point where these meetings are fact finding conversations.

As i hear from various people, I believe city staff needs to seek help defining boundaries of their respective jobs and how to work within those boundaries.

A part time mayor does not have time to carry out those duties adequately, especially while running a personal business.

Let's set a goal of getting beyond the council just putting out fires. Then we can better manage our own growth. Thanks to those who have chosen to commit to running our city government.

Your questions seem to suggest a predetermined decision to change the current form of government. Why is there a push to alter something that is working well and could potentially increase costs for the Town? It may be in the best interest of the community to maintain the current structure rather than implementing changes that could disrupt the stability and success of our town.

Financially, government should be run more like businesses - not in the profit sense but in the leadership sense. I've asked a lot of questions and learned a lot about the current form from people here and in other Towns. I think Ennis has struggled along for years and it is time for a leader. The employees deserve a full time manager not a pop in and pop out Mayor position that has no real firm dedicated time for the employees.

The employees are probably doing the best they can with what they have. Like a business - if there are employees that just aren't good at their job, especially after years and years in the same position, it's on the manager to make it better. Ennis is lacking a manager for these employees.

What other employees are struggling through their daily tasks and professional growth just shooting from the hip and trying to learn as they go on our dollar? They deserve better.

Stop trying to turn Ennis into California and don't change anything.

It's interesting that this committee chooses to meet at the library rather than Town Hall, where meetings could be properly recorded and memorialized—especially since official town meetings are typically held at Town Hall.

There is no sense of team with the town. There are clicks in employees and even elected officials. No vision. No leadership

Needs a manager, impossible to manage happenings with part part time leader do not have a local police dept - make an agreement with the Sheriff's office. Desparately need a resort tax!
